First round of negotiations – employers do not submit an offer!

Dear Colleagues,

the first round of collective bargaining negotiations for employees in the financial sector took place on February 26, 2025. Despite the excellent economic situation in the sector, the employer representatives tried to play down the successes.

First offer?

Our demands for fair pension fund regulations for women and a free last working day of the year were rejected after intensive discussions. Instead of acknowledging what the employees do every day with a strong initial offer, they decided not to make an offer.

But we won't let up! We have once again made our demand for a 4% linear increase clear and our further demands for the collective agreement regulations remain on the table. Now it's time to stick together and put pressure on!

We'll keep you updated - together for a strong finish!
